Located right next to the Musée d'Orsay and the very lively Quai de Seine, the Bellechasse Saint Germain hotel brings originality and creativity in a neighborhood where hotels generally prefer going for the mainstream classic decoration. Christian Lacroix, haute couture designer, has brought a colorful and daring decoration in this nice and friendly hotel. Enjoy! Parisianist.

WHY TO GO

A distinct separation between the offbeat decoration of the Bellechasse Saint Germain and the very aristocratic ambience of the neighborhood. An excellent location, right next to the Musée d'Orsay and the Quai de Seine, very animated especially during summer. A boutique hotel that offers a proximity between guests and staff, inevitably making the stay a lot more enjoyable.

ROOMS & AMENITIES:
 CHRISTIAN LACROIX SIGNS THE DECOR

The decoration of the Bellechasse Saint Germain's 33 rooms has been created by Christian Lacroix, a famous French haute couture designer, based on these 7 themes: Fairbanks, Avengers, Saint Germain, Tulleeries, Musketeers, Jeu de Paume and Quai d'Orsay. All these different themes are a perfect mix of the designer's colorful world and the distinct aristocratic tradition of the neighborhood. Some rooms have a completely open bathroom, others have a small terrace. The average price of a standard (Découverte) room is 350Euros per night, but that greatly will depend on the season. Each room is equipped with a mini bar, an MP3 dock and free WIFI.

BARS & RESTAURANTS: BREAKFAST IN THE AQUARIUM

Breakfast is served in several places. On nice sunny days, it's better to have it outside, in the hotel's patio. But on regular days, breakfast is served in the basement, in a room called the "aquarium" because of Christian Lacroix's decoration. Finally, for the lazy people, in-room breakfast can be served with no extra cost. The hotel only serves breakfast. No worries, as there are a lot of recommended restaurants for lunch and dinner in the area, such as the 20 de Bellechasse in the same street. The bar of the hotel, in the lobby, is open 24/7

SERVICES: IN-ROOM SERVICE

The Bellechasse Saint Germain offers in room service at any time of the day. The personnel at the reception will also gladly make any reservations you would ask for and give you great tips on how to enjoy your stay in Paris.
